

Walter Deemer's

MARKET STRATEGIES AND INSIGHTS

...for Sophisticated Institutional Investors

MY POST-RETIREMENT BUSINESS PLAN

If you are interested in what my “business plan” is going to be after I retire on December 31st, it's this: I think that it is only fair to my clients and friends who have supported my market explorations in the past to give them an opportunity to continue to do so – and I think that they should determine the amount at the level of my usefulness to them. You may conclude that the amount you have been paying me all along is a reasonable contribution, or you may elect something more or less; it will be your decision.

And, hopefully, I'll be excused if I issue a reminder from time to time that a voluntary contribution would be appreciated.

-- Walter Deemer